As each form is completed, please submit it to the GCUMM to lsayles@gcumm.org. The office will start tracking completion on a spreadsheet and each time you submit a new form showing completion of another requirement, the spreadsheet will be updated the spreadsheet and you will receive a copy. We understand the feeling of urgency to get the certification process complete and start serving as quickly as possible but we ask that you allow time for each of these relationship building task to be completed and documented.

Personal Contact Information and Ministry Background

Please complete Form A.

We need accurate contact information for you. This Form should be completed and submitted to the GCUMM office to start the application process so that we can start tracking your progress. This will also include you in the various communication we use to keep MMS and candidates informed such as our YAHOO group.

Pastor/ Spouse Recommendation

Please complete Form B.

It is important that your pastor be aware of your desire to serve as a MMS, and to gain the support and encouragement of your pastor. Schedule some time with him/her to describe the MMS roles and responsibilities and how you hope to help in the ministry. If you are married, it is also important that your spouse be supportive of your desire to serve God and the church as a MMS. Schedule a second meeting for your pastor to talk with both of you about your involvement in this ministry. .

Spiritual Advisor Commitment

Please complete Form C.

The application process really begins here. Your spiritual maturity and continued spiritual growth are of utmost importance. The leader call of an MMS is “Follow me, as I follow Christ.” (1 Cor 11:1)

MMS candidates are men who are committed to personal spiritual growth and men who understand the value of spiritual mentoring. The best mentors are well-mentored. A sustained requirement for MMS during their candidacy - and as they serve the church - is spiritual growth oversight.

MMS Spiritual Advisors must be mature Disciples of Christ, sharing a common bond of relationship and trust. The MMS spiritual advisor may be your pastor (male or female), other clergy, or spiritually mature lay person. Oversight and care for your spiritual development will be encouraged through your work with your spiritual advisor or mentor. He/she should be somebody who can advise you on tools for your spiritual growth and who can hold you accountable for that growth.

The following guidelines are provided for both you and your spiritual advisor to help you keep focused and moving toward spiritual maturity:

- Complete Form C.
- Monthly contact in person, using Skype or by telephone (30 min)
- E-mail communications initiated by GCUMM MMS Coordinator or a member of the MMAT, to help guide the MMS mentoring process, including discussion items.
- The spiritual advisor will guide the candidate through the development of a 2 year MMS spiritual growth plan. You should outline your two year plan for spiritual growth on Form E.
- Progress reviews relative to the plan will be reviewed on a quarterly basis to check progress.
- Participation in the MMS Spiritual Advisor community, in an annual review process intended to maximize the potential of the MMS program.
- Review and discuss the findings of the Spiritual Gifts Inventory, Personality Profile and Exploring Faith in terms of how they will support serving in this ministry. At the completion of these discussions, email your evaluation of the candidate to serve in this ministry given his gifts.
- Report on the candidate's progress relative his established two year spiritual growth plan and verify that it is updated into a continuous growth plan.

UMM / UMCL Leader Consultations

Please complete Form D

It is important that MMSs work closely with UMM leaders and clergy in their areas. We request that you meet at least twice annually in person or by phone with your UMM conference and district president. In some cases, MMS candidates hold positions in UMM leadership. If you hold one of those positions, we ask that you meet with appropriate UMM leaders at the jurisdiction, conference, and /or district level.

We request that you meet with the district superintendent in your area.

Personality and Spiritual Inventories

You will benefit from knowing more about the ways in which you interact with others, the spiritual gifts given you, and insight on how you experience God and your faith. For MMS, your ability to function well as a men's ministry consultant and advisor requires that you "know thyself" as much as possible.

Please take time to complete the following free assessment instruments. Make three copies of each; one for you, one for your spiritual advisor, and mail a copy of each to the GCUMM office for your file.

MMS Leadership Training

Core MMS leadership training is offered regionally in "No Man Left Behind", a 2 1/2 day training intended for laymen and clergy.

In this high-quality training, you will learn how to:

- Shift your thinking from men's ministry to a ministry to every man in your church.
- Identify the unwritten "man code" that your church conveys to every guy who walks in the door.
- Ensure long-term success by recruiting allies who will work with you to make disciples.
- Develop a concrete, seamless process to help men who don't know Christ become passionate disciples.

The course is offered in two formats. You may take the original 2 1/2 day training or the newer format that separates the training into two sessions of Fundamentals and then Practical.

No Man Left Behind training is offered through Man in the Mirror Ministries. We are partners with this ministry, and recommend this training for all men and clergy who desire to lead effectively.

The training is offered widely throughout the US, at UMC host churches and other Christian churches. The cost for this training is specially discounted for UMMen and clergy who attend.

Go to www.maninthemirror.org for details on training schedules, and speak to the UMM staff advisor at 800-929-2536.

MMS Spiritual Development

Please complete Form E

Spiritual maturity and a commitment to lifelong spiritual growth are essential traits of a MMS

Several elements are in place to help you become a man who carries the countenance and love of Christ:

- You will select a person to be your spiritual mentor. This person may be your pastor, or may be a mature Christian that you trust - lay or clergy. Together, you will both tend to the crucial business of your spiritual formation.

- Your spiritual history and plans are important tools for your growth. . The form is a recap of your spiritual growth history (5 years), present involvement in discipleship, and the plan for your continued personal spiritual growth for the next two years. You should also include your plan for reaching out to your sphere of influence as a MMS during the next two years. This plan will be the primary document reflecting your work with your spiritual advisor.
- There are many good resources and tools that aid the process of spiritual growth. Many effective resources such as DISCIPLE Bible Study and Companions in Christ are available from UMC sources. It is important that you be regularly engaged in small group work with men as part of your spiritual formation. Wesleyan theology is rooted in small group dynamics, and getting men into such environments is key to effective local church ministry to men. Your credibility as a men's ministry leader is greatly enhanced by the effect that your men's team has upon your life and spiritual growth. We strongly recommend that you experience the Wesleyan Building Brothers one year process. This experience with a band of 4 -12 brothers will provide you with a group of mentors as well as help reproduce your local leadership for the next generation.
- Your present discipleship commitments and two year plan for continued spiritual growth will be reviewed and approved by the MMS Certification Team. A list of recommended tools and resources will be available, both within and beyond the UMC.
- We recommend that MMSs become frequent users of an internet site for men's ministry resources at www.disciplemen.com. This ecumenical site collects information and ratings for men's resources from many sources.

Professional Reading

As a MMS, you are a man committed to lifelong learning and growth. Required and recommended reading will help you learn and grow.

REQUIRED READING (two books)

The book “Spiritual Fathers” by Dan Schaffer is required reading for MMS certification. The book expresses an important spiritual development goal for all men: becoming spiritual fathers. The point of spiritual growth is spiritual maturity and spiritual reproduction – which is the foundation of evangelism

Spiritual Fathers captures the heart of a premier men’s growth resource recommended by GCUMM. Wesleyan Building Brothers (WBB) is a one-year, four phase process highly recommended for MMS to experience and lead. Delete the picture

Wesleyan Building Brothers is dedicated to working with the local church to remove the various barriers that keep men from being involved within the life of the church. These barriers are addressed and can be removed as a leadership team of men model these principles:

- Understand and deal with the father vacuum.
- Establish a safe, masculine environment within the church to deal with issues.
- Develop men into leaders who can be trusted.
- Help men in their pursuit of God.

You can order this book, and get information about Wesleyan Building Brothers at www.buildingbrothers.org/wbb, or call their office at 303-972-2775.

MMS Educational Courses

Basic educational requirements are defined here, and continuing education will be a part of MMS training as a practicing specialist. Sources of educational courses will include UMC conference/ district courses for lay and clergy leaders, GCUMM developed courses, basic and Advanced Lay Speaker training, and seminary courses.

Required courses for MMS certification are:

- ✓ UMM/UMC History and Polity. This course has been developed by GCUMM staff, and is offered at no cost. The course insures that you have basic knowledge of the UMC and UMM.

The course can be accessed through the GCUMM website. The course is taken in modules, with interactive features to insure learning. Your requirement is met when you complete the last module. Estimated course study time: 8-12 hours.

- ✓ UMC Safe Sanctuary and Sexual Ethics. The denomination is educating lay and clergy leaders in the important issues of domestic violence and sexual ethics.

These courses are available through conference and district offices at nominal or no cost. They may be titled differently, depending on your conference. It is also available on line through the GCUMM website. You may meet this requirement by attending any training offered on these topics, and sending the completion certificate to the GCUMM MMS Coordinator for inclusion in your training file.

- ✓ Basic Lay Speaker Course. For many years the General Board of Discipleship (GBOD) has offered excellent leadership and speaker training. The basic course is a requirement for MMS. This requirement is waived for ordained clergy and local pastors. Some MMS applicants are active as lay speakers, and others have taken basic and advanced courses. If so, please complete Form G. (Optional for Lay Speakers)

This training is offered widely through conference and district offices. Check with them for upcoming dates. You are encouraged to attend training offered through other conferences as well, according to your schedule and convenience. If you have taken the basic course previously, please send a copy of the completion certificate to the GCUMM MMS Coordinator for inclusion in your training file.

MMS Certification

Men who aspire to serve as men's ministry specialists, and who complete all program requirements will be recommended by a GCUMM / MMS Review Panel for certification.

The MMS Certification Panel will work under the authority of the General Commission of United Methodist Men, and they will work as an extension of the MMS Advisor Team. Upon completion of the requirements, the MMS Coordinator will provide the necessary documentation to the Certification Panel for review and approval. Candidates will be certified as they complete the review and approval process and will be recognized annually at the NACP conference. Telephone and electronic communications will be maximized to hold meeting and travel requirements to a minimum for certification.

Certification Modifications for Clergy

The MMS certification is open to both clergy and laity. On a case by case basis, the requirement to complete the specific MMS certification items may be waived if the MMS candidate can demonstrate that he has met the requirements as part of achieving ordination as a pastor in the UMC, as part of a course of study to become a pastor, or as part of his service as a pastor in the UMC. The specific requirements where a requirement may be waived are:

- History and Polity test. A pastor who graduated from divinity school and was ordained by the UMC should have completed and passed a UMC history and polity course. If the candidate confirms this is the case, the MMAT may waive the requirement for the candidate to take the MMS history and polity test. If the candidate became a pastor in the UMC taking the "course of study" route, the history and polity test can also be waived if the candidate can demonstrate that he passed a United Methodist history and polity test as part of his course of study.
- Pastor/Spouse Form B: a candidate serving as an active pastor should have his district superintendent sign Form B in place of the local pastor.
- Lay Speaker Form F: an ordained pastor meets the requirements for Basic Lay Speaking by virtue of his role in the UMC. If a pastor is an Advanced Lay Speaker, he should submit his certification with Form F to ensure this is reflected in his MMS certification package.

MMS Recertification

MMS certification renewals are granted bi-annually based upon a desire for continuance by the MMS, and satisfactory performance as determined by the review panel. It is essential that MMS personal motivation and performance be held to high standards. The bi-annual process also includes a review of performance, effectiveness and growth of previously certified MMS. MMS certifications are granted based upon completion of requirements as described in Form H and panel review. As part of the Recertification process, you will be required to:

- authorize an updated background check
- Update your 2 year spiritual growth plan
- Report of progress under your current 3-5 year MMS strategy
- Update the 3- 5 year MMS strategy

FORM E: MMS Spiritual Development

The form is a recap of your spiritual growth history (5 years), to include present involvement in discipleship, plans for your spiritual growth for the next two years, and your 3-5 year strategy for serving your area of ministry as an MMS.. This plan will be the primary document reflecting your work with your spiritual advisor. Please use this guideline to prepare a separate document to be sent to the GCUMMMMS Coordinator.

Five year spiritual growth history:

Please describe your faith history, especially information relevant to your desire to serve the church as a MMS. Include your experience in discipleship, church and men's ministry leadership, mission and service work etc. Include work related experience that could be valuable in the MMS role.

Your past experience as a men's leader matters greatly. This experience may have been gained in United Methodist Men leadership roles, or as a lay or clergy leader in the church. Experience can include UMM leadership roles, event planning for local or regional events, congregational leadership roles, mission and project participation and leadership, and teaching / leader roles in discipleship.

One to two pages is desired for this background summary, attached in a separate document. This information will be helpful as we develop biographies that describe the skills and experience of our MMS team. It will also help you to plan for your own growth in new areas of experience and skill development.

Present Discipleship Involvement

Please document significant elements of your current involvement. Include information about:

- Your church attendance and place of worship.
- Participation in study groups.
- Quiet time and prayer life, including spiritual reading.
- Leader experience within your congregation.
- Service, mission, and project work.
- Men's ministry involvement, including UMM.
- Stewardship as reflected in your use of time, talent, and money.

- The effect of your faith walk upon your close loved ones.

Future Spiritual Growth Plans (two years)

Please give an assessment of where you are in your personal walk with God, and how you hope and plan to grow in the future over the next two years. It is essential for MMSs to stay engaged in spiritual formation work, and that their faith walks include being part of a men's small group for support and accountability. Please insure that your two-year plan includes these elements. This plan should be coordinated with your spiritual advisor before he/she signs the Form C.

Future MMS Implementation Plan (3-5 years)

Please show us your plan for reaching out to your sphere of influence as a MMS. You should use the Roles & Responsibilities described earlier as a guide to developing this strategy. Who do you plan to interface with? How will you do it? What do you hope to accomplish on the first two years as a MMS? Your plan should be specific and measurable in that we should be able to evaluate effectiveness. The plan should be shared with your UMM organizational leadership to ensure that it supports the shared vision.

The MMS Certification Team will review and approve your spiritual growth and MMS strategic plan.
